CONFIDENTIAL SALES PLAYBOOK • US SEPTIC & EXCAVATION NICHE

Cold Calling Master Guide & Script

Complete Psychological Blueprint, 20-Second Phone Pitch & High-Ticket Objection Vault

Target: US Septic & Excavation Contractors

Live CRM: septic.up.railway.app/call

Caller Role: Outbound Rep

1. Executive Summary & The #1 Golden Rule

⚡ THE #1 GOLDEN RULE:
NEVER attempt to close a $2,500 sale on the phone! A contractor working in a trench or operating an excavator will not pull out a credit card while on the line. Your sole objective is to sell 30 SECONDS OF CURIOSITY — earn his permission to text his custom showcase link, and have him open it on his smartphone. The showcase sells itself because he sees his own trucks, equipment, and 5-star Google reviews.

We build turnkey, high-performance mobile showcases for verified local contractors with 4.7★-5.0★ Google ratings whose websites are either non-existent or broken on mobile devices.

2. Contractor Psychology & Mindset

WHO THEY ARE

- Self-Made Tradesmen: 40-55 year old men who built their business with physical grit. They take deep pride in their fleet and crew reputation.
- Always In The Field: Answering while operating excavators, trenching pipe, or driving service trucks.
- Allergic to Marketing Buzzwords: Instant hang-up on "SEO synergy", "digital transformation", or scripted robots.

THEIR HIDDEN PAIN & FEARS

- Agency Retainer Trauma: Burned by paying $1,500/mo agency retainers that delivered zero real jobs.
- Fear of Time Sinks: "Building a site" sounds like weeks of questionnaires and endless revisions.
- Secret Guilt: They privately know their web presence is missing or embarrassing, but lack time to fix it.

👑 Why Being a Female Caller is Your Secret Advantage:
Blue-collar contractors naturally drop their aggressive defense mechanisms when speaking with a warm, polite, confident woman. While a pushy male salesperson gets hung up on in 3 seconds, you will receive 20 seconds of genuine, respectful attention. Speak with casual peer-to-peer confidence, warmth, and brevity.

3. The Done-For-You Offer & Dual-Pricing Model

We do not sell "web design services." We sell a completed, live digital asset ready for immediate takeover:

OPTION 1: OUTRIGHT OWNERSHIP (BEST DEAL)

$2,500 Flat One-Time

100% turnkey buyout via card/PayPal. Zero ongoing agency fees or monthly retainers ever. Full transfer of domain, code, and printable high-res truck decal QR codes.

OPTION 2: 12-MONTH INSTALLMENT PLAN

$249 / Month (12 Mos)

Zero-interest operational cash flow plan. $249/mo is less than the price of a single standard tank pumping job ($350-$450). It pays for itself with literally one service call.

4. The Master Phone Script (Step-by-Step)

Step 1: The 10-Second Icebreaker (Pattern Interrupt)

Glance at your CRM screen for the specific customer review hook before dialing. This proves you are a real person who researched their business.

OPENING HOOK • TARGET: 10–12 SECONDS — STEP 1

You:

"Hi [Owner Name / there]! It's [Your Name]. I know you're probably out in the field so I'll be super brief — I was just checking out your work in [City] and saw that review from [Customer Name from CRM] about how you guys [specific deed: came out in an emergency / left the yard spotless / replaced the drain line cleanly] — really awesome work!"

(Pause 1 second. Contractor will react: "Oh thanks / Yeah / Who's this?")

Step 2: The Hook & Why You Are Calling

Frame the problem through revenue loss: high-ticket jobs slip away to competitors when customers search on phones.

VALUE DELIVERY & MICRO-COMMITMENT • TARGET: 12 SECONDS — STEP 2

You:

"The reason I'm calling: your reputation is top-notch, but I noticed you guys don't have an active website right now. And when local folks look you up on their phones, high-ticket jobs can slip away to competitors. So we actually went ahead and already built a custom mobile showcase for [Company Name] — with your equipment, reviews, and a 10-second quote calculator.
Do you have 30 seconds on your phone to take a quick peek?"

Step 3: Handling The Immediate Response

BRANCH A: POSITIVE / CURIOUS — OUTCOME A

Contractor:

"Sure / Yeah, shoot it over / What is it?"

You:

"Awesome! Is this your direct cell — can I text it right here?"
(Tap the blue Send Link SMS button in your CRM)
"Just texted it over from this number. Did that ping through on your screen?"
- If received: "Great! It showcases your fleet, emergency dispatch, and direct click-to-call. Take a quick scroll — does everything look accurate?"*
- If carrier delay: "Looks like the carrier takes a few seconds. If you're on your phone, you can also just tap Safari and type zonus.co/[slug] — it's super short!"*

BRANCH B: BUSY / IN THE FIELD — OUTCOME B

Contractor:

"I'm driving right now / I'm on a job site with an excavator."

You:

"Totally get it, I know you guys are busy out there! I just texted the link over to this number. When you shut off the truck tonight, take 20 seconds on your phone to check it out. If you like it, just text me back. Have a great day out there!"

BRANCH C: PRICE QUESTION — OUTCOME C

Contractor:

"How much does this cost?"

You:

“It’s $2,500 flat one-time for complete ownership with zero monthly fees. Or if you prefer monthly, it's just $249 a month for 12 months.
Take a quick look on your phone first to see if you even like it! Can I text it over?”

5. High-Ticket Objection Handling Vault

Contractor Objection	Underlying Psychology	Exact Word-for-Word Response
"We have plenty of work / We run 100% on word-of-mouth."	Fears getting overwhelmed by cheap tire-kickers who haggle over $100.	"And that's exactly why we reached out — you have a great reputation! But this isn't for cheap tire-kickers. It's built specifically to capture those high-ticket $10,000–$15,000 replacement and drain field jobs when people look you up on their phones after a referral. Take 20 seconds to see how it looks — if it's not for you, I'll take it down tomorrow, no hard feelings at all!"
"Are you an SEO / Marketing agency?"	Traumatized by paying $1,500/mo retainer fees with zero tangible return.	"Not at all! We hate those $1,500 monthly agency retainers. We don't charge subscriptions. We built a turnkey digital asset for your company: the mobile showcase, domain, and truck decal QR codes. You own it 100%."
"I already have a website."	Defensive about money already spent on an old desktop site.	"Gotcha! Most older websites take 8 seconds to load on mobile and don't highlight real equipment. We built an ultra-fast showcase designed specifically for homeowners calling from their phones in an emergency. Take 15 seconds to compare it to yours!"
"Send me an email, I'll look later."	Polite brush-off. He knows he won't check email for 2 weeks.	"I won't spam your inbox — I know in the trades you don't sit in front of email all day. I just texted a short link directly to this cell. It takes literally 20 seconds to scroll. Take a peek between jobs, sounds good?"
"Not interested / No thanks."	Default defense mechanism or firm disinterest.	"Totally understand! We're cleaning up our staging server tomorrow so I'll take down the demo files. Wish you all the best!" (Never argue, never beg. Remain cheerful and unbothered).

1. Note the Owner Name and City.
2. Glance at the 🔥 5-Sec Icebreaker Hook (Customer Name + Quote).
3. Tap the green 📞 Call Now button to place the call.

LOGGING THE OUTCOME (1 TAP)

- 🟢 Agreed Link sent, looking at showcase.
- 🟡 Callback Busy in field / asked to call later.
